COVID-19 Guidelines and Regulations

COVID-19 Impact

During the 2020–2021 academic year, Auburn University limited all in-person gatherings and events to no more than 50 people. As a result, chapter operations including, but not limited to, meetings, social events, and recruitment events were conducted via Zoom for the majority of the school year to ensure the safety of the brothers.

Even though we were virtual, we were able to come together for our recruitment events!

Programs Promoting Brotherhood

Chi Days

On Fridays, brothers are encouraged to wear the specially made black polo with our names on it. This signifies the unity of the chapter and allows others within the school of pharmacy to visualize our presence. Brothers wear their polos with pride and confidence.

Brotherhood Reflection

Brotherhood means having a relationship with a group of people who are behind you throughout life's journey. Brothers help lead and guide you to your success. They are the people you can count on in times of need. There are days when you will be down and they are there to pick you up and encourage you to keep going. You can look at brotherhood as your backbone. People you build close relationships with and are there for you. I can remember numerous times when I needed assistance with things and even though it was last minute, I had a brother who was willing to help me out. This is even more important in pharmacy school as you can have topics that are difficult to understand and brotherhood plays a vital role in helping you understand those topics. I am thankful for the brothers I have gained by being in Phi Delta Chi. They are my support system and the relationships I have built I know will be life-long.

Promoting Scholastic Achievement

PBA Preparation

At the end of each quarter, students undergo exams on the topics that were introduced that quarter. As a part of those examinations, students take Performance Based Assessments (PBAs), formerly known as Objective Structured Clinical Examinations (OSCEs). These assessments are geared toward having students apply knowledge in real-world patient encounters. As such, there is a lot of anxiety that surrounds PBAs. To help with this, Brothers meet and create a simulated script that is used to help Brothers practice before the actual examination.

Finals Review

At the end of each quarter, during finals, a few brothers in the same classes meet up to review course material that will be covered on the end-of-term exams. Due to students having limited access to study rooms this year, Brothers met via Zoom. This provided a means for them to interact face-to-face, and review material. Reviewing together allows brothers to help each other in areas that they may not understand individually. Brothers are able to work together to ensure that each member is ready for the exam.

Programs Promoting Leadership

Alumni led CV Workshop

As the name suggests, we will enlist the help of some alumni brothers to conduct a CV workshop.

Instagram Recognition

Brothers who have leadership positions are recognized on the chapter's Instagram page. Their hard work and leadership skills are acknowledged and praised as they are representative of the leadership skills we strive for as a chapter. Their recognition motivates and inspires others within the chapter.

What have we been up to?

Fundraising

Our fundraising committee designed and sold masks in various colors to raise money for the Chapter and St. Jude.

Community Service

Several Brothers volunteered their time at vaccine clinics throughout the year and helped administer Influenza and COVID-19 vaccines.

Recruitment

Due to the ongoing pandemic, both of our recruitment events took place over Zoom. We held a virtual Game Night for our Informal event and a virtual Trivia Night for our Formal event.

Social/Brotherhood

To celebrate the end of the year, Brothers gathered together to enjoy a fun night of bowling. We also enjoyed time with our P4 brother's the night before graduation at their send-off dinner!
